FOREWORD

The 1966 edition of the Ram with the theme, "Footsteps", attempts to depict the step by step progress of our school days.

We walked with the faculty along the winding roads of knowledge. As we traveled, we gained knowledge of the past, became more familiar with the present, and received an insight into the future.

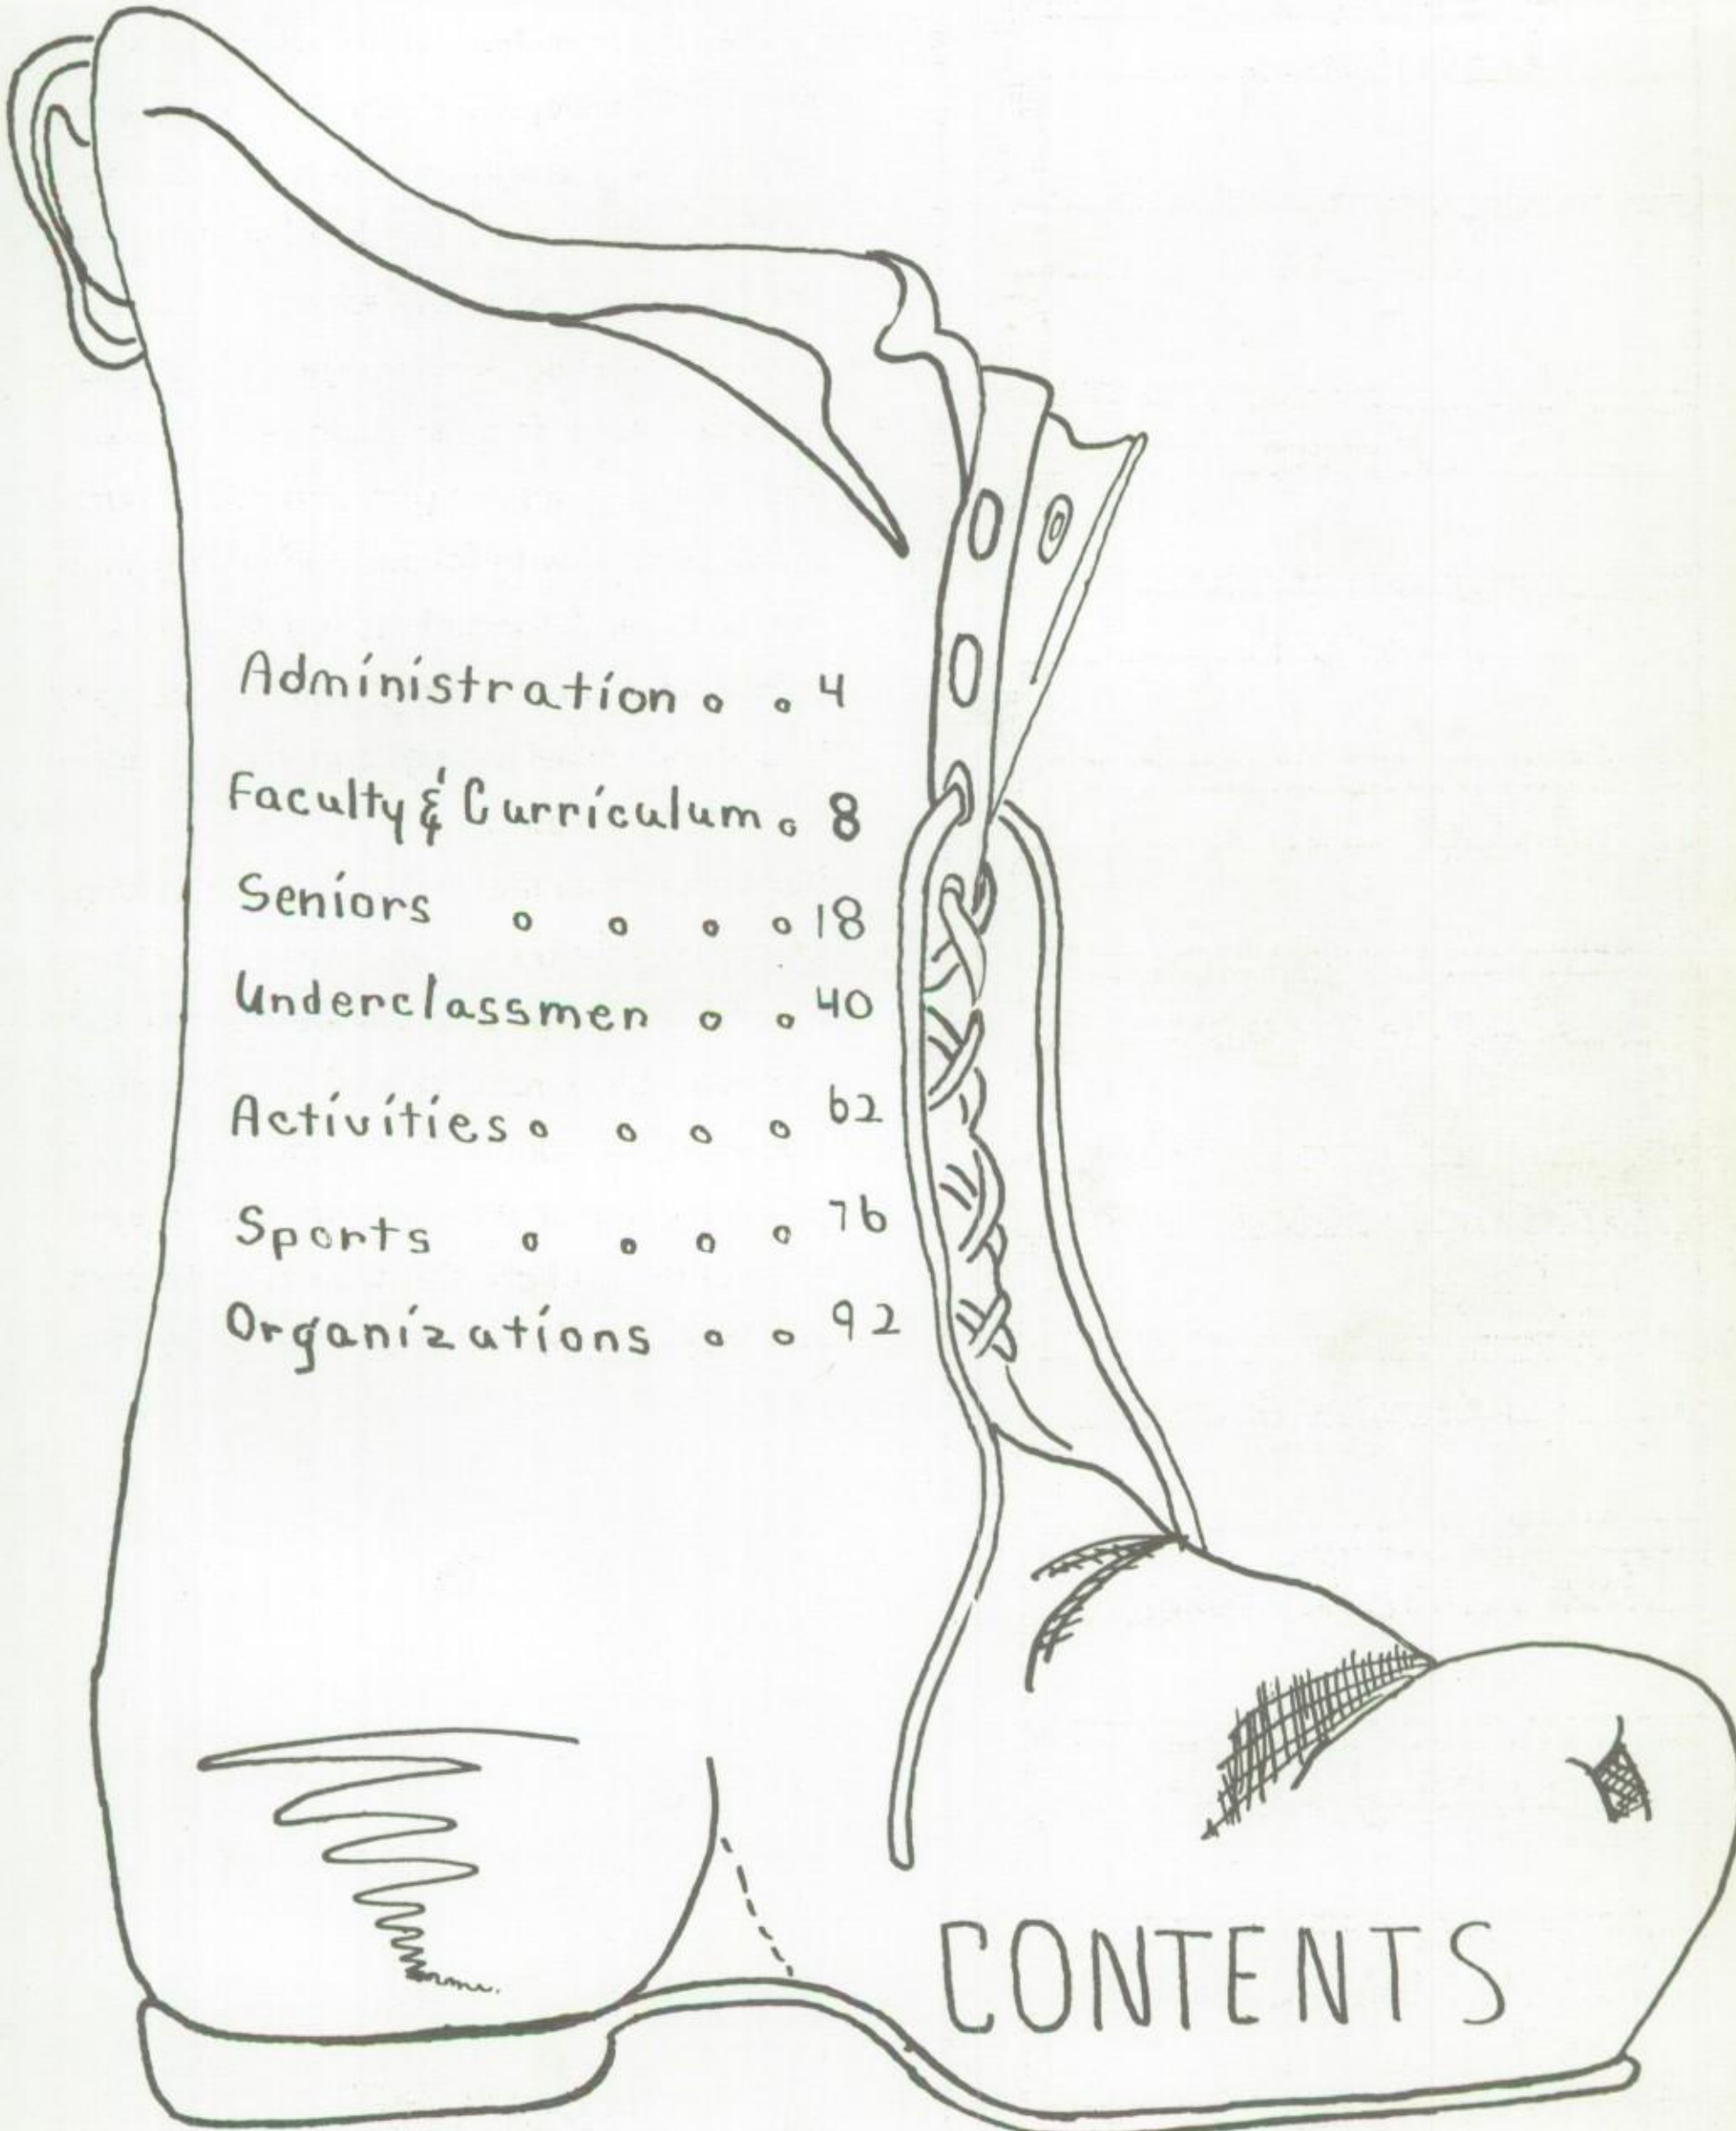

We strolled with fellow students through the halls, and formed lasting friendships.

We walked paths lined with school spirit, a sense of belonging, and a deep pride for our Alma Mater.

It is our hope that we have made a deep, lasting impression in the heart of JAHS as we moved along. It is our desire that this yearbook be a reminder of the cherished memories we found in our journey.

We hope that the trail we have blazed will guide and light the way for others so that they may follow in our "footsteps."

CONTENTS

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Members of the School Board are: Donald Decker, Paul Calkins, John Halquist, Mrs. Mary Carlson, Charles Griffin, Richard Pistner, William Logue, Arthur Bennett, Jack Rosenhoover.

DETERMINES SCHOOL POLICY AND EXPENDITURES

School Board Officers are: William Logue, Secretary; Charles Griffin, 1965-66 President; Arthur Bennett, 1966-67 President; Jack Rosenhoover, Treasurer.

The members chosen to establish school policy are responsible representatives from various walks of life. They work to provide quality education for students.

At the present time, they are discussing the possibility of a new building to accommodate Johnsonburg and Wilcox elementary students.

Walter, Elaine, Patty and Leslie make a last-minute check on the Code of Dress approved by the Board of Education.

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. Davies has a sympathetic interest in the students. He is also very active in community affairs. His loyalty and devotion to duty has done much to promote our school system into being one of the best in the area.

*Best wishes
Gordon Davies*

Freshmen become actors in Shakespeare's play "A Midsummer's Night Dream", under the direction of Mr. Frank.

Sophomores can be heard mumbling "Friends, Romans, and Countrymen, lend me your ears," long after Julius Caesar has been completed.

If you want to learn how to give a permanent or make party favors, just ask the Juniors who gave demonstration speeches.

"If you think Senior English is hard, wait until college", is Mrs. Graebner's favorite saying. Seniors write speeches and essays to enter in such contests as the Legion sponsored Constitution Contest and the V.F.W. sponsored Democracy Contest, not to mention writing the ever faithful research themes.

Communications

Freshmen learn the importance of their own state when they study Pennsylvania History.

In American History class, the Sophomores trace the history of our country from its beginning as thirteen small colonies to the present day.

Juniors learn about the origin of man and how the modern civilizations were formed.

Seniors in PAD class learn what makes our government "tick" by studying the practical problems that it must solve.

Certain phrases remind us of our days in Mathematics class; "Any more questions?", "Now class!", "Gee!", and "Beautiful!"

This all begins in Junior High with Mr. Johnson's "Any more questions?"

A student knows he is making real progress when he hears "Gee!" from Mr. Sallack.

And who could ever forget Mr. Tile's "Now class!"

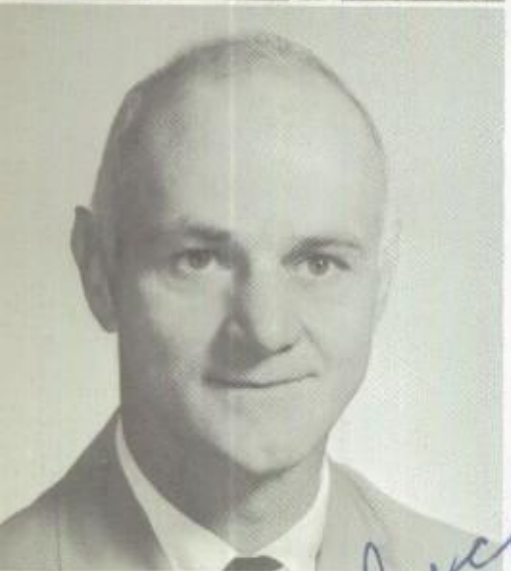

When someone gets a problem right in Mr. Casciani's Math IV class, "Beautiful!" is the cry that echoes through the room.

These familiar phrases will stimulate our memories for a long time.

The Senior High Band, under the direction of Mr. William Pratt, has a busy schedule. The band, accompanied by the majorettes and color guards, provides entertaining half-time shows at all the football games. They find it necessary to practice three days a week after school in order to prepare for the half-time shows.

Members of the band also participate in Elk County Band, District and Regional Band, and Band Day at Penn State. The Pep Band performs for the student body and faculty for all assemblies.

TROUBLE — TRIUMPH

What is it, a civil war? Walking into room 102, you can't help but wonder. The confusion that takes place at every meeting defies description. Numerous complaints, endless assignments, and unceasing noise dominate the scene. The advice given by the editors and advisors combined with a touch of ingenuity, turn out a successful yearbook.

Those responsible for getting ads: First Row: B. Jones, K. Gahn, M. Dill, J. Pisani, C. Dill Second Row: C. Wildnauer, T. Thorwart, K. Frank, K. Warmbrodt, S. Swanson, S. Kissel

"Smile, you're on 'Candid Camera!'", say our photographers Barb Jones and Joe Pisani.

REPORTERS — WRITE-UPS —

The Ram-Page Staff: Bob Ferragine, Ed McAlee, Steve Bell, Jim Johnson, Eileen Yankovich, Joyce Parana, Peggy O'Rourke, Jim Pratt, Sandy Kreckel, Bernadette McAlee, Susie Parana, Joyce Haight, Kathy Frank, Patty Preshak, Cindy Wachob, Pam Allegretto, Betty Sweeney, Kathy Wildnauer, Judy Vanatta, Carol Roberts, Gail Halquist, Mary Koneski, Ellen Graebner, Sandy Blint, Sandy Brechtel, Tom Schott, and George Cooney.

"O-ooooooooo! we've finally done it," says Mr. Taylor to Joyce Parana.

"It isn't as disturbing as that," says Mrs. Smith to Sandy Kreckel.

"You shouldn't use words like that in My assignments," says Mr. Chalot to Eileen Yankovich.

DEADLINE — RAMPAGE.

Linda Polaski and Phyllis Haight, Editor and Assistant Editor.

On Monday everyone hurries to Room 103 to get his or her assignment. A deadline is set; after which all items are checked and rechecked and sometimes rewritten before being placed on grid paper to justify the margins. "Dummy" pages are then set up and used as copies for typing mimeograph stencils. The copies are then run off and stapled together. The final result is the Ram-Page.

This year the sophomores were asked to help the Journalism class.

The Ram-Page is full of school news that is of interest to the students.

Don't take it so hard Chris and Sandy, everyone's "write-up" gets red-penciled.

It's 9:30 and all is well.

"That should make news," shouts Jim, Bernadette, and Cindy.

Activities for the prom began on April 12 with all the Juniors vigorously working to create a Chinese atmosphere for their theme, "Shangri-la." Cathi Clerkins blended well with the background after the paint fell on her head. DeeDee Moneta was rather embarrassed when he made the long procession up the stairs with Miss Chop-Suey (the borrowed mannequin) in his arms. Mr. Elza enjoyed decorating so much, he never had time to take off his coat.

On May 9, the climax was reached with everyone enjoying music by the Bat Men.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Queen Phyllis Haight and King Curt Johnson.

Joyce, Beverly, Suzanne, Dianne aid Miss Kirkpatrick in making favors.

Mrs. Smith, Mr. Funair, Mr. Elza, Mr. Chalot were the advisors.

DeeDee and George transformed the ceiling.

Tom and Dolly direct mural painters, Carol and Charlotte.

FOOTBALL = PUNTS . . . PASSES

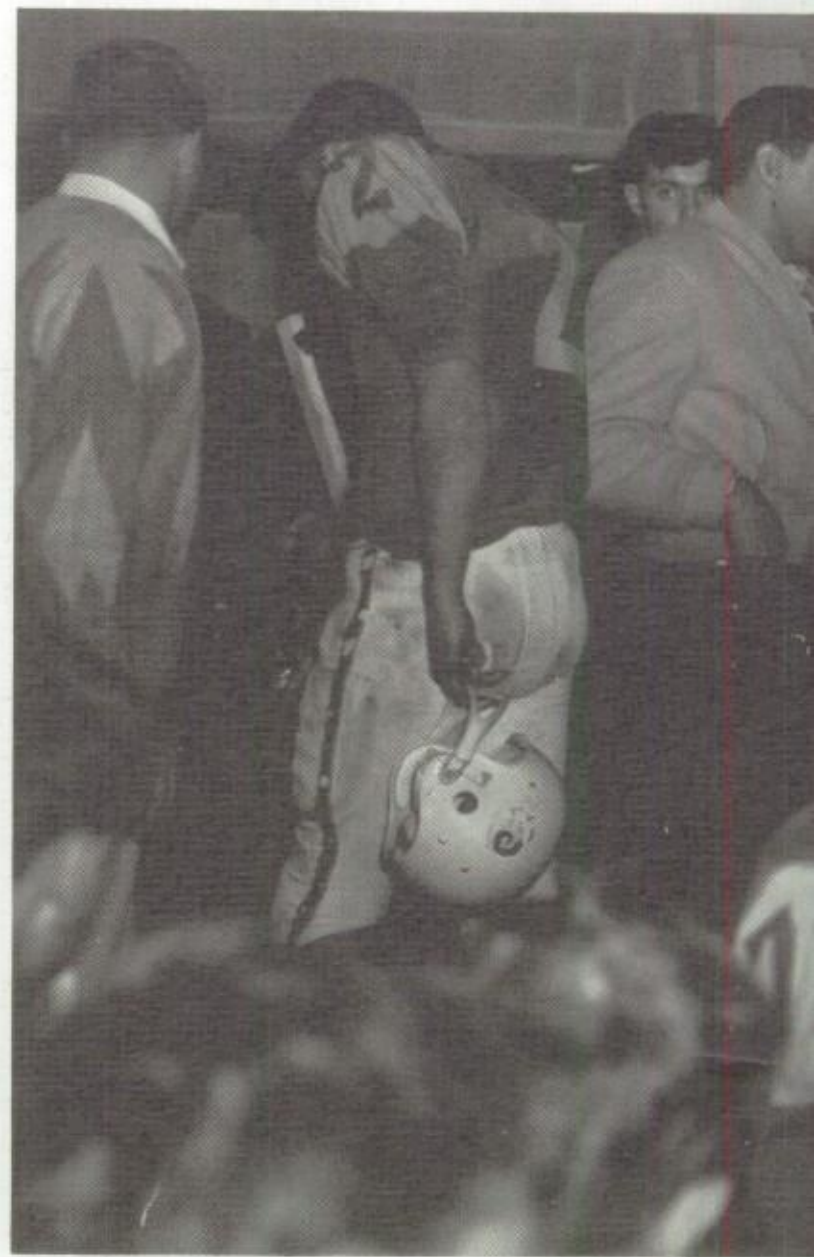

Bruises, Sweat, and Precision

Student body shows loyalty to team with cheering line.

Strong defensive play means minus yardage for Salamanca

Ah-haa—

Football, the roughest, toughest activity in the school, is one of our best attended scholastic sports.

Whether the day was hot, rainy, or cold, they still met opponents with one aim—to win.

The season closed with the traditional clash between Burg and Ridgway, when the Elkers dehorned the Rams during a heated battle.

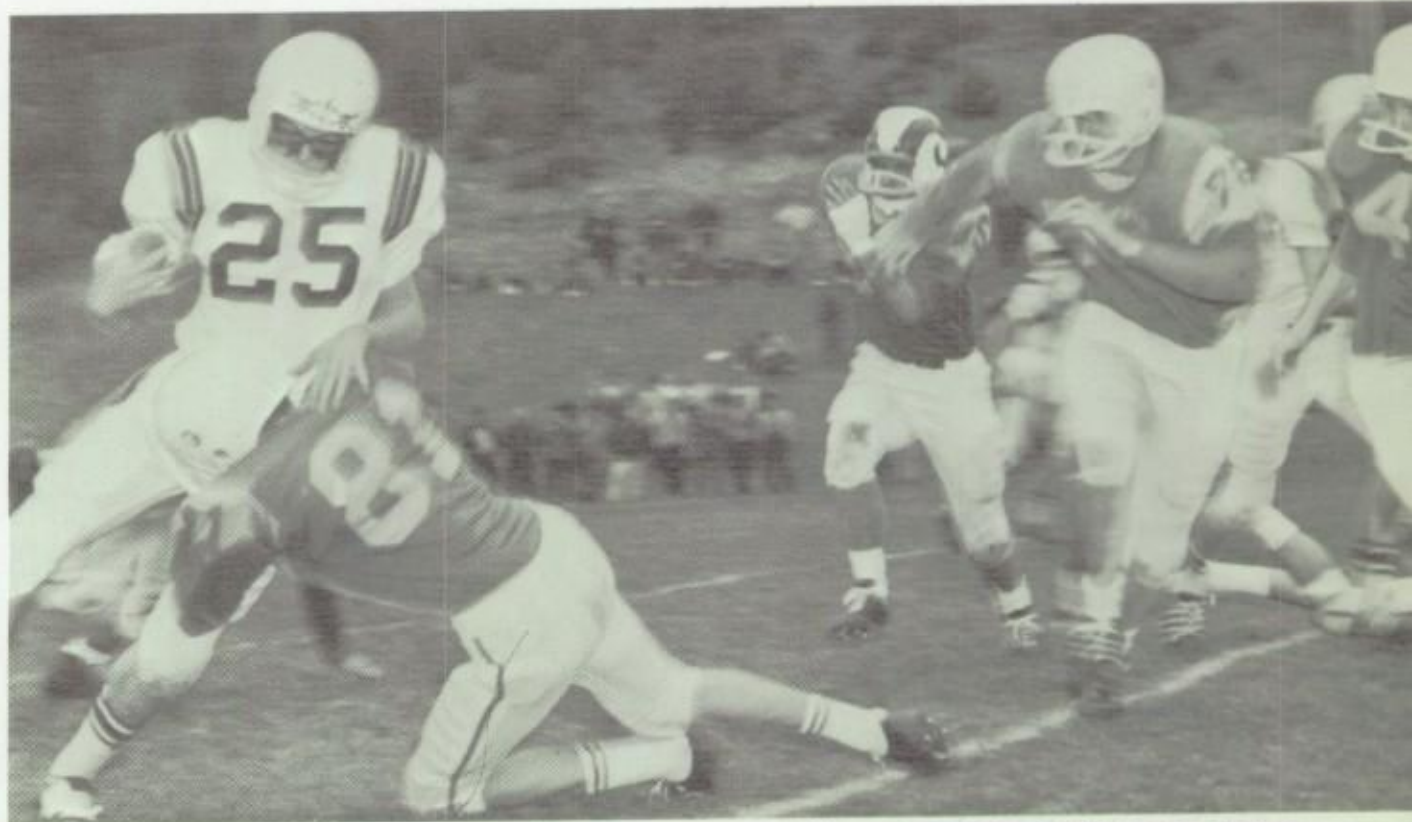

Although the season was disappointing our team will go on record as having displayed determination and good sportsmanship throughout the season.

PENALTIES . . . POINTS

The crowning of Diane Warmbrodt as football queen by last year's queen, Darla Carrera, was the social highlight of this year's football season. Diane is the sixteenth girl to be given this honor. She was escorted by Richard Polaski.

Kathy Warmbrodt, Mary Ann Zimmerman, Peggy O'Rourke and Cathy Spencer were chosen as her attendants.

Their escorts were: Larry Callahan, Don Payne, Dan Berglund, and Larry Casilio.

Anne Marie Scida was Diane's crown bearer.

RALLY SPARKS SPIRIT

The Juniors reign supreme with "I Was A Teenage Fruit Fly", portraying a giant mosquito (Elker) attacking the Rams.

The Seniors' hilariously funny skit, "Silent Movies", took second place.

The Freshmen added a modern touch with their creative dances and took third place.

FORWARD CURT JOHNSON

FORWARD PAUL MONETA

The Johnsonburg Rams, under the direction of coaches Mr. Villella and Mr. Grimone experienced a frustrating and difficult season. However, despite their pitfalls, the boys came back with an even greater desire to win; they learned to bounce back after defeat. By doing so, they were an example of determination and good sportsmanship to the student body.

Coaches Grimone and Vilella discuss team strategy.

Achievements—such as the four-minute mile, high-jumping seven feet, or throwing the shot 60 feet, are a few things the Ram Cindermen would like to have accomplished. Even though they fell short of these goals, they still did their best, under the guidance of Coaches Funair and Clouse.

Track is an excellent competitive sport, emphasizing both individual ability and teamwork.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL LINKS

ADVISORS: P. Caristo, H. Detwiler, D. Frank, V. Sallack.

The Student Council is the student government of our school. It does not assume any of the responsibilities of the administration but assists in any way to advance education and to promote cooperation among the students to improve their school life.

The programs and projects of the Student Council are instituted by the Council itself, with the objective to make our school even better. Hall Patrol and the Code of Dress are full-time responsibilities and various seasonal projects require attention throughout the year.

Council advisors are Miss Detwiler, Mr. Caristo, Mr. Frank and Mr. Sallack.

Pam Allegretto and D. Breakey discuss with Patty Foster and Susie Parana the best method for making change. Cecilia Santaniello carefully watches the exchange.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Library workers Darlene Mann, Kathy Allegretto, Joan Thorwart, Cindy Moneta, Patty Foster, Janice Erickson, Beth Ann Reitz, and Dianne Markert, stop from busy work to pose for the camera.

Patty Foster, a library assistant for four years, supervises Kristine Kreckel, Karen Stockdill, Lucy Markert, and Linda Leader as they cover new books.

Patty Foster checks for overdue books while Toni Duchi, Lydia Fowler, and Jean Murphy stamp outgoing books.

STUDENT OFFICE HELPERS

Christine Storrar and Dan Berglund make announcements while Charlotte Gorlowski and Christine Sweeney help in the General Office.

Cast of "SWINGING HIGH"

The Junior Play, "Swinging High", was written by Mary Lacy, Paul Weirick, and Al Pothamus. It was directed by Mr. Thomas Voorhies. This play was the first musical presented in our school and met with huge success. Most of the members of the Junior Class, Chorus, and the band participated in this play.
